

Success in the recruiting process is a great college experience. Finding the right mutual fit between an athlete and a prospective college requires input, research, and a strategy to get the right exposure to the right programs. This worksheet serves as a discussion guide to review critical factors that will help you execute an effective recruiting strategy.

RECRUITING ALIGNMENT MEETING

Coach Worksheet

ANSWER BELOW

COMPETITION LEVEL

What level do you want to play in college?
Do you think this level is the best fit for you?

POSITION

What is the best positional fit for you in college?
Is this different from what you play now?

SCHEME

How do you play your position? How do you see this method of play fitting into a college team?

ACADEMIC STANDING

What is your GPA and what are your standardized test scores?

GEOGRAPHY

Where do you want to go to college, geographically? For parents - do you feel comfortable sending your child there?

POTENTIAL MAJORS

What do you want to major in? Do you have a general field of study you might want to pursue?

OTHER INTERESTS

Are there any extracurricular interests you have or might want to pursue in college? Will any of these take away time from playing your sport?

FINANCES

About how much are you willing to spend on the expenses associated with playing in college? Do you expect to receive scholarships or financial aid?

CURRENT RECRUITING EFFORTS

Do you have a recruiting plan? Are you using any resources to help guide you through the recruiting process? Have you been in contact with any college coaches?