LETTER FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Greetings PCA CenTex Ambassadors,

In this time of unease, we remain certain of 2 things:

1. PCA is fully committed to developing and promoting a culture around Youth Sports that nourishes the mind, body, and soul of our entire community.
2. We are grateful to our supporters who believe in the power of positivity and have supported the work that PCA has done and will continue to do.

Positive Coaching Alliance is honored to be in a position of leadership to influence the creation of a more just society, through sports. With that position comes the responsibility to listen to understand (not respond), embrace and celebrate our differences, and share what people NEED to hear (not to be confused with what they WANT to hear). The Black Lives of our athletes, coaches, parents, and administrators Matter.

Though the opportunity for our kids to compete was put on hold due to Covid19, we are more convinced than ever that Youth Sports provides a powerful vehicle for young people to develop, improve, and prosper. The environment that will allow for character to build and fun to be had only exists through the combined efforts of everyone. After all, LIFE IS A TEAM SPORT. It takes all of us.

Entering our 4th year as a chapter, PCA - Central Texas is excited about the over 170 workshops delivered and 130k + kids impacted. However, we are most proud of the depth of our impact. Whether it be through our Character and Leadership Development Program with Austin ISD and East Central ISD (San Antonio) or our partnerships with East Austin Youth Foundation and the Lake Travis Youth Association, we believe that lives are being changed through sports!

The spirit of Ubuntu, an African proverb that states "I am a person through other people. My humanity is tied to yours," is a powerful truth that reminds us that we need one another to thrive. Nothing valuable is achieved alone. We have the ability, through sports, to manifest this creed and leave every place we enter better than we found it. Your support is needed to continue this movement!

Better Athletes, Better People,

Trennis Jones, Regional Director,
Central Territory (Central Texas)

READ PCA'S STATEMENT ABOUT HOW SPORTS CAN BATTLE RACISM ON THE NEXT PAGE: As a force in education through sports, we vow not to stop at condemnation...

SPORTS CAN BATTLE RACISM

As a force in education through sports, we vow not to stop at condemnation, but to strive to be a force for reconciliation, through the collaborative actions with coaches throughout our country.

George Floyd was murdered. Our hearts mourn for not only his family, but for those of Ahmaud Arbery, Breonna Taylor, Tony McDade, and every other Black family that has experienced the devastating loss of a loved one due to senseless police violence and anti-Black racism. These past few weeks have succeeded in shining a light on a deadly and destructive crisis we have endured for centuries: the ugly and undeniable truth of systemic anti-Black injustice. We hope the rest of the sports community will join us in fighting anti-Black racism.

PCA has openly and decisively condemned all forms of bigotry, hatred, and violence. Black Lives Matter. Sports has the intrinsic power to transform lives and unify communities. When sports are done right, they cannot fix anti-Black racism alone, but the positive and inclusive actions of coaches, parents, student-athletes, organizational and school leaders throughout the country can start to reverse an age-old trend of systemic racism.

As a force in education through sports, we vow not to stop at condemnation. PCA will instead strive to be a driving force for reconciliation by partnering with coaches and leaders across the country, providing them with tools needed to foster a culture of diversity, equity and inclusion. We know that athletes and coaches can play a substantive role in furthering racial equality and social justice. The successful development of ANY athlete includes parallel development of courage, resilience, and character not limited to a field, court, pool or rink.

"Sport has the power to change the world, it has the power to inspire. It has the power to unite people in a way that little else does. It speaks to youth in a language they understand."

“Now more than ever, we need to be good teammates to one another.”

Our most meaningful achievements are defined by how well we succeed with others. It's up to us to use the skills learned on the playing field to work together as a team, especially now!

While sports were on hiatus, it was important for us to be intentional about the ways in which we all work together to build the character that fulfills potential and develops leaders—across the globe, across the country and in every way we can. Spectator, parent, coach, and athlete, everyone has a role to play.

And that's why we're an alliance.
A Positive Coaching Alliance.

Because we believe life is a team sport, PCA, through our evidence-based curriculum, cultivates a positive, character-building environment that actively involves youth's social and emotional growth to ensure they take away the many life lessons that can be learned from sports done right.

As we return to Youth Sports, it is critical Coaches have the skills to deal with the social and emotional needs of our athletes as they emerge from the trauma of COVID-19.

SUSAN CROWN EXCHANGE GRANT

PCA Partners with Susan Crown Exchange to Train 400,000 Coaches in Youth Development

Mountain View, CA, July 7, 2020 – Over the next four years, Positive Coaching Alliance (PCA), the leading national non-profit dedicated to providing a positive, character-building experience for youth athletes, will partner with Chicago-based foundation Susan Crown Exchange (SCE) to train over 400,000 youth coaches to foster the social and emotional needs of youth athletes.

After seven years of funding initiatives in social and emotional learning (SEL), this partnership marks SCE's largest investment yet into youth sports. Combining physical activity, play, and collaboration, sports have near-limitless potential to help young athletes develop social and emotional skills like teamwork, empathy, and problem solving. These foundational skills boost young people's academic, career and life outcomes; they help young athletes succeed, both on and off the field.

Since late February, youth across the country have endured unprecedented challenges: virtual learning, racial injustice, and the health and economic impacts of COVID-19, to name a few. Many of those young people feel powerless and hopeless, and express both a desire for structure and uncertainty around the future. The magnitude of the impact this has had on kids is yet to be measured—but as young people return to play, coaches will need the tools to meet kids' social and emotional needs as they process this tumultuous time.

"Across the United States, forty million young people play sports each year. The coaches that make youth sports possible have a major impact on those young people's lives," says Haviland Rummel, Executive Director of the Susan Crown Exchange. "This partnership will help coaches across the country promote positive youth development, changing the lives of young athletes. As young people return to play after an incredibly tumultuous few months, this work will be more important than ever."

For more than two decades, PCA's mission has been to create a positive, character-building youth sports environment that results in "Better Athletes, Better People." It's clear that social and emotional development is critical for young people, and it's equally clear that coaches are important role models for the athletes they serve. By bringing training on SEL and youth development to coaches across the country, we can help them transform the lives of the millions of kids who play sports.

"Regardless of zip code or socioeconomic status, our children need and deserve all the support they can access during this incredibly complex and confusing time," said Chris Moore, CEO of PCA. "We've known for years that PCA's social and emotional training empowers coaches to develop athletes of character who will be good teammates to one another. With this partnership, and in this moment, we're looking to leverage PCA's partnership with coaches across the country to provide the training they need to support young people as they return to schools and youth sports."

In keeping with the organization's core belief that life is a team sport, PCA is actively looking for like-minded organizations and individuals to join its mission of addressing the social and emotional needs of youth athletes everywhere. To align with both organizations' commitment to ensuring a level playing field for the rising generation, regardless of access to resources, at least 50% of this training will support coaches in underserved communities.

Learn about ways to support and help grow this initiative.

ELEVATING THE BAR IN THE ALAMO & CAPITAL CITIES

Through the amazing support of donors, PCA - Central Texas has expanded its Character & Leadership Development Program to East Central Independent School District in San Antonio, TX! As it has for the past 2 years with Austin Independent School District, "Elevating the Bar" is structured to embrace, educate, nurture, and motivate the athletic culture on school campuses. The combination of engaging young athletes within their school day and PCA's "Presence Model", providing support at games, practices, and special events, allows for the changing of lives.

"East Central ISD Athletics is committed to creating a sports culture based on each young person's development, both within their sport and in life", said ECISD Athletic Director Suzette Arriola. "Our partnership with Positive Coaching Alliance has strengthened the environment within our ECISD community and empowered our students to become Better Athletes, Better People."

The strong leadership and financial support of H-E-B Tournament of Champions, Glimmer Austin, and the Mountain Family is essential to the impact being made on campuses in Austin and San Antonio.

“Youth sports and coaching had an enormous impact on my growth, development and discipline. I still believe that youth sports offer an amazing opportunity to teach, mentor, and build individual character in our future generations.

But we may have lost sight of some of the most important reasons to play sports — to build community, develop lifetime habits of fitness, and most of all, the emphasis on teamwork. This is why PCA has been so important to our communities for the last 20 years and why moving forward, it will be even more important as we embrace this opportunity to 'reset' sports.”
